

Yulu Griffith Klein

Yulu Griffith Klein is a Registered Member of the Society of Archivists (UK), and member of the Caribbean Archives Association. She spent nearly 12 years with the National Archives of St. Vincent & the Grenadines (SVG), including more than six years as Archivist (Ag.) there having obtained a post-graduate qualification in records and archives management (international) at the University College London in 1996.

Her other experience in the Caribbean involved designing and implementing the project to identify and make locally accessible French colonial archives relating to S.V.G. as project archivist with the Historical and Archaeological Society and Alliance Française; and conducting a damage assessment of records archives in Grenada following Hurricane Ivan in collaboration with CARBICA (Caribbean Archives Association).

An Independent Practitioner, Yulu is currently Records Policy Analyst at the Cayman Islands National Archive.